

The inside red circle shows the approximate area of the badge face. The area to the second circle shows the bleed area which is used to wrap around the edges of the badge.